REAPPORTIONING OF OHIO COUNTY

Upheld By the Court of Appeals In Recent Decision.

OHIO CIRCUIT COURT REVERSED

Higher Court Held That Circuit Court Acted Without Authority.

The Court of Appeals has just handed down an opinion in the Magisterial redistricting case. It reversed the decision of the Circuit Court and directed that the petition of plaintiff be dismissed and the restraining order dissolved.

County Judge Wilson had appointed a commission to redistrict Ohio county into Magisterial Districts on the petition of a number of voters of the county. The commissioners filed their report and a number of local politicians filed exceptions and objections to the report. After an elaborate hearing Judge Wilson confirmed the report which established seven instead of eight districts. Before the judgment confirming the report could be entered, the objectors filed a suit in the Circuit Court and before Judge Slack and he granted a writ of prohibition against Wilson preventing him and the County Clerk from entering the judgment. After a final hearing the Circuit Court made the writ perpetual and Judge Wilson and the Clerk appealed.

The Appellate Court sustained the County Judge in all his contentions, and held that the Circuit Court acted without authority in issuing the writ of prohibition.

Judge J. S. Glenn represented the County Judge and Heavin & Martin and Woodward & Kirk the plaintiffs. Paraphrasing the remarks of the Republican in a recent issue: "This is what the Democrats get for electing a Republican Judge in the 6th District."

MOTHER OF SENATOR JAMES SUCCUMBS

Stricken Sunday and Dies While Son Is On Way To Bedside.

Marion, Ky., Oct. 12.—While Senator Ollie James was on his way to the bedside of his mother in this city he received news of her death, which occurred at 5:30 o'clock this morning. The Senator abruptly left a conference on the La Follette oyster question as soon as he received word of the illness of Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Bradley James, and was on his way to this city when a telegram advised him of her death.

Mrs. James, who was 72 years old, was stricken ill with pneumonia last Sunday and Wednesday her condition had become critical.

She was born in Smith county, Tennessee, and married Judge L. H. James in that State in 1863. For nearly 50 years she had made her home in Marion. On her last visit to her son in Washington, two years ago, Mrs. James was introduced to President Wilson, who presented her with a bouquet of flowers.

Mrs. James is survived by her husband, two daughters, Miss Lizzie James and Mrs. J. Fleming Gordon, of Madisonville, and her two sons, the Senator and Marshal Edgar H. James, who is ill at his home in Louisville.

CAPT. BEN KING WANTS HIS RESIGNATION RESCINDED

Camp Shelby, Miss., Oct. 13.—Captain Ben King, formerly commander of the Owensboro company, whose resignation has been sent to the war department at Washington, is making an effort to have it rescinded. It is understood that he has been offered the captaincy of a military police detachment at Camp Shelby.

PELLAGRA PATIENT TAKES OWN LIFE

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 12.—Mrs. L. Bassett, aged thirty-three, a pellagra patient, committed from McLean county about a month ago to the Western State hospital here, escaped during the early hours of Wednesday morning, and last night her body was found face downward in a shallow pool in a little river some distance from the institution.

She was not confined in the hospital proper, but was in a cottage some distance away where the tubercular and pellagra patients are kept. She slipped out by crawling through a bathroom window, and search for her was unavailing until her body was found.

OHIO COUNTY BOY PHOTO- GRAPHER IN SIGNAL BRANCH

The following clipping from some Illinois paper, we suppose, was mailed The Herald:

"Private Ingram, a Springfield member of Company C, has received a transfer from his company to the signal corps of the Thirty-third division. Private Ingram will be one of the six photographers in the signal branch of the service, which will receive special training in military photography at Camp Logan. Two lieutenants will be appointed from the men engaged in this work."

Young Ingram was formerly a resident of Ohio county, living near Beaver Dam.

FORDSVILLE SCHOOL FAIR ATTENDED BY LARGE CROWD

An unusually large crowd attended the school fair at Fordsville last Saturday, and it was in every way a success.

There were several entries for each prize offered, and it brought out the best that was in our boys and girls.

The exhibit of farm products was also fine, and some high-grade specimens of corn and tobacco were exhibited.

We made an unsuccessful attempt to get the list of prize winners in the various contests, which we had hoped to publish in this week's Herald.

OHIO COUNTY BOY IN HONOR LIST

Everett Likens, of Beaver Dam,
To Go to France at Once as Balloon Observer.

Everett Likens, of Beaver Dam, has been recommended by the officers of the Tenth Company, student officers training camp, Ft. Benjamin Harrison, to go to France at once as commissioned balloon observers.

Young Likens is the son of Mr. Scott Likens, of Beaver Dam. Following is a Ft. Benjamin Harrison special to the Sunday Courier-Journal relative to four young Kentuckians being commissioned to go to France at once:

Four Kentuckians are included in a group of twenty student officers of the present training camp who are scheduled to go to France "at once" as commissioned balloon observers. Uncle Sam's call for men for aeronautical duty abroad reached Ft. Benjamin Harrison early in the week, resulting in the designation of one candidate from each of the training companies for this important arm of the service.

Candidates Scott M. Duncan and Frank Barton, of Louisville, were named from the Twelfth and Eleventh Companies and expect to be training soon in an American camp abroad. James N. McClure, of Corydon, Ky., was selected from among candidates of the Fourth Battery of Field Artillery, and Everett Likens, of Beaver Dam, is the Kentuckian recommended by officers of the Tenth Company.

The future aeronauts are considerably "up in the air" as to their future, as they have received no information as to what orders they may expect from the War Department. They were informed before being recommended as balloonist that they would be "commissioned and sent to France at once." Further than this, and the fact that they have been endorsed as observers, nothing is known to them.

PROFIT IN PUMPKINS.

We had a notice in our paper last week to the effect that Mr. Al Sheffield, near town, had sold two loads of pumpkins at the mines for $13 per load. Mr. Sheffield was in to see us Saturday and says that he took an extra big load to the Beaver Dam Coal Co., at McHenry, for which he received $17, or 10c around for 170 pumpkins.

Mr. Sheffield says he has sold this year more than $50 worth of pumpkins, and is now feeding them every day to his hogs.

OCTOGENARIAN DIES

Diseases Incident to Old Age
Ends Life of Mr. W. H.
Acton.

Diseases incident to old age ended the life of Mr. W. H. Acton, aged 84 years, Tuesday, Oct. 9, at his home near Mt. Vernon church.

Mr. Acton joined the Methodist church when quite young and for more than 65 years was a consistent member, serving that denomination as steward for 25 years. He was the church choir leader for half a century and at his request two of the old-time Methodist church hymns, "Nearer My God To Thee," and "How Firm a Foundation," were sung at his funeral.

His wife, who before her marriage was Miss Martha Crawford, together with six children survive. The boys are, Schuyler, Culley, Robert and Ira Acton, and his daughters are Mrs. C. R. Crowe and Mrs. Frank Atkinson, wives of Methodist ministers. All the children were present at the funeral with the exception of Mrs. Crowe.

Mr. Acton was also the uncle of the Bean boys and Mrs. J. H. B. Carson, of Hartford, and Mrs. Will Duke, of Dundee.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Frank Atkinson, assisted by Rev. Joseph Acton, after which his remains were laid to rest in the Mt. Vernon burying grounds.

CAMPAIGN TO SECURE

Food-Saving Pledges Postponed One Week—Conflicts With Liberty Loan Drive.

The campaign to secure signatures from the heads of Kentucky households to pledges of food-saving for the period of the war has been postponed at President Wilson's suggestion, from the week of October 21 to 28 until one week later, October 28 to November 4.

Fred M. Sackett, of Louisville, Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky, is just in receipt of advices from Washington to the effect that the exigencies of the Treasury Department make it desirable that the food-saving campaign not interfere with the drive for the sale of Liberty Bonds during the week beginning October 21.

Mr. Sackett was advised by the United States Administration at Washington that the President's wishes would be complied with, thus giving Kentucky workers an additional week in which to make the campaign a thorough-going success.

D. D. FELIX OF HARTFORD IS GIVEN COMMISSION

A Washington special to the Courier-Journal says:

Douglas D. Felix, of Hartford, was appointed a First Lieutenant of infantry in the National Army. He is an alumnus of Kentucky State University and of the law department of Yale University. He resigned his position as attorney of the Federal Trade Commission to accept the commission in the army.

Mr. Felix is the son of Mr. F. L. Felix, of this city, former editor and owner of The Herald. He was assigned to duty on the staff of the Provost Marshal General at Washington.

DIPHTHERIA FATAL

To Little Estes Phillips, Who Died Friday—Spread of Malady Unlikely.

Estes H., the 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Phillips, who live in the edge of town, on the Beaver Dam pike, died Friday afternoon of diphtheria, after a short illness.

Master Estes had not been to school since Friday, Oct. 5th, he not being well, but did not take seriously ill until the day before he died.

Funeral services were conducted at the family residence Saturday afternoon by Rev. R. D. Bennett, after which his remains were buried in Oakwood cemetery.

Dr. Pendleton says that while there is not a likelihood of a spread of the malady, it is best that parents use precautionary measures and guard against it as much as possible.

PIERSON FOUND GUILTY OF KIDNAPING KEET BABY

Sentenced to Thirty-Five Years' Imprisonment—Jury Returns Verdict After Six Hours.

Marshfield, Mo., Oct. 15.—Claude Pierson was found guilty of kidnaping Lloyd Keet by the jury at 10:25 o'clock tonight. He was sentenced to thirty-five years' imprisonment. The case was given to the jury at 4:48 o'clock this afternoon.

Special Prosecutor Roscoe C. Patterson, closing for the State, declared the circumstances were conclusive that Pierson and others, yet to be tried, kidnaped the Keet baby. Mrs. Keet wept during his graphic description of the infant's fate. Pierson remained unmoved.

Charles Dickey, counsel for the defense, maintained that the State had not shown that Pierson was connected with the crime.

LAST QUOTA HAS NOT BEEN CALLED

It seems that there has been some mistake made as to the time of the calling of the last quota of men drafted under the first call.

The impression seems to have gotten out that the call for the last quota of 46 men would be made this week, but the local exemption board has had no word to that effect, and do not know when they will receive notice for the last call.

Adj. Gen. Ellis says he has received no notice from Washington to call the last quota, and does not know when he will get such word.

The next game, which was staged in the windy city resulted victorious for the Chicagoans, and the last game at New York went to them, the West thereby triumphing over the East, and the world's championship going to the American League.

NEGRO BRAKEMAN FALLS TO HIS DEATH

Henry Taylor, of Color, Killed
At Rockport Early Tuesday Morning.

Rockport, Ky., Oct. 16.—About 4:30 o'clock this morning Henry Taylor, colored, brakeman on the second section of 55, I. C. freight, in taking the siding here for Nos. 104 and 32, fell from the top of a box car on Doe Run trestle, a distance of 35 feet and was instantly killed.

Taylor was a new man on this division, and lived in Louisville. He was 30 years old.

IMPORTANT ARREST OF ALLEGED SPY MADE

Man Charged With Getting Information by Joining Army and Navy.

New York, Oct. 15.—A man who gave his name as William J. Dunbar was arrested here tonight by the police, charged with conspiracy "to obtain information against the United States Government" through enlistment in the army and navy. He was turned over to the Federal authorities. Dunbar is said to have told the police he was an instructor in chemistry.

It was said at police headquarters that detectives had been shadowing Dunbar several days, one or more of them occupying a room next to him in a hotel. It was said at the hotel that Dunbar went away a few days ago, saying he was going to make a trip to Washington. Detectives had been on his trail ever since his return and he was arrested on the street by an officer who watched him throughout the night from an adjoining room.

Information that the Government regards Dunbar's arrest as one of the most important made in this country since the declaration of war against Germany is said to be in the possession of the Department of Justice here. Officials of the department admitted late tonight that they believe he is an agent of the German government and had been spending much time recently near a great naval base on the Atlantic coast.

A full report of the case is in the possession of the Navy Department at Washington as well as in the hands of Attorney General Gregory.

The authorities announced late tonight that Dunbar had been interned at Ellis Island, and this fact is taken to indicate that the Government believes him to be an alien.

Officials of the Department of Justice are investigating a report that Dunbar served as an ensign on a submarine chaser on duty off the coast of the United States. Suspicions of members of the crew of the submarine chaser are said to have led to the investigation which caused his arrest.

OCT. 24 MADE LIBERTY DAY

President Urges Nation to Pledge Financial Support.

LET RESULT BE EMPHATIC

Wants Patriotic Meetings Held
In Every City, Town
Hamlet.

Washington, Oct. 14.—President Wilson in behalf of the Liberty Loan tonight issued a proclamation setting aside October 24 as Liberty day, and urging the people of the nation to assemble on that day in their respective communities and "pledge to one another and to the Government that represents them the fullest measure of financial support."

"Let the result be so impressive and emphatic," the President urges, "that it will echo throughout the empire of our enemy as an index of what America intends to do to bring this war to a victorious conclusion."

The President's proclamation follows:

"BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, A PROCLAMATION:

"The second Liberty Loan gives the people of the United States another opportunity to lend their funds, to their Government to sustain their country at war. The might of the United States is being mobilized and organized to strike a mortal blow at autocracy in defense of outraged American rights of the cause of liberty. Billions of dollars are required to arm, feed and clothe the brave men who are going forth to fight our country's battles and to assist the nations with whom we are making common cause against a common foe. To subscribe to the Liberty Loan is to perform a service of patriotism.

Greater Response Sought.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I WOODROW WILSON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, do appoint Wednesday, the 24th of October, as Liberty day, and urge and advise the people to assemble in their respective communities and pledge to one another and to the Government that represents them the fullest measure of financial support. On the afternoon of that day I request that patriotic meetings be held in every city, town and hamlet throughout the land, under the general direction of the Secretary of the Treasury and the immediate direction of the Liberty Loan Committees which have been organized by the Federal Reserve banks. The people responded nobly to the call of the first Liberty Loan with an oversubscription of more than 50 per cent. Let the response to the second loan be even greater, and let the amount be so large that it will serve as an assurance of unequalled support to hearten the men who are to face the fire of battle for us. Let the result be so impressive and emphatic that it will echo throughout the empire of our enemy as an index of what America intends to do to bring this war to a victorious conclusion.

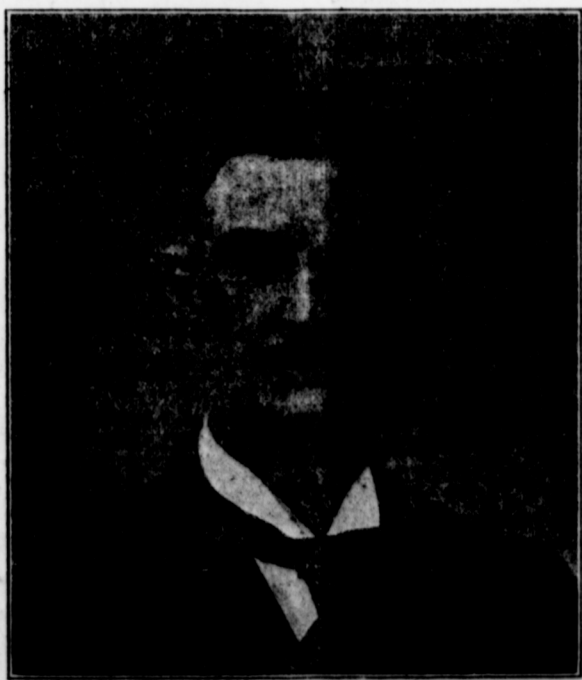

"For the purpose of participating in Liberty day celebrations all employees of the Federal Government throughout the country whose services can be spared, may be excused at 12 o'clock Wednesday, the 24th of October.

"In witness whereof, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States to be affixed.

"Done in the District of Columbia, the 12th day of October, in the year of our Lord, 1917, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and forty-second.

"By the President,
WOODROW WILSON.
"ROBERT LANSING,
"Secretary of State."

It was with deep regret that the many friends of Rev. A. D. Litchfield and family gave them up to make their home in Hartford, Ky. Ohio County Boy In Aviation Corps

Enlisting in the services of our country is not an easy matter as is generally thought. First, it takes some time for the Government to examine and properly put a man through all stages of this procedure. The examinations are many, rigid, exact and carried out to the most minute details. It has often been said this newly organized army consists of a class of really selected men from all branches of the service which, in a manner, makes a man feel proud to be classed as a member of our army, and to be represented in the cause for which we are at war.

The Government has made apparently unbelievable progress in assembling an army of men of the greatest magnitude, equipping, arming and training in the elementary rudiments of war, which daily are perfecting the men to the highest class of a skilled and trained soldier, and a soldier to be, which the world has never before known, and the grand old U. S. A. will carry the banner to a victorious end.

The Government has made every provision for the care of the enlisted men morally, mentally, physically, mentally, hygienically and spiritually. Every encouragement and opportunity is given the men for their personal betterment, which it is needless to say is grasped by each man. The wonderful development of the men is better known to the man that is one among many. It has generally been thought through the common expression of the inexperienced civilian that the army was an undesirable institution, but such is not the case; instead, it is a school, such as can not be found elsewhere.

This branch of the service stationed here in the equatorial sun rays of the Lone Star State, is termed or known technically as the Aero Aviation Corps, which consists of a very large camp called "Kelly Field," divided into several sections for the training of certain professions.

The soldier personnel of this camp is approximately twenty thousand strong, which varies as men are coming and going daily. This is known as a cadet training camp, situated about ten miles from the pretty city of San Antonio, Texas. Great freedom and liberty is offered the enlisted men for attention to their personal matters, and the privilege of breaking the monotony and the solitude of camp life. However, camp life is very lively, as we find here every talent and skill known among the human man. Entertainments are formed daily and nightly among the men from sections of the camp, which in manner affords great pleasure to the less skilled. The personnel is the same as one, every man realizing his position and the cause for which we are assembled, which brings about great love and affection from man to man. There is no place in this army for the tough or degenerated man. The government requires that every man be a gentleman, which is very noticeable to the raw recruit just entering.

The sun of Texas, as is generally known, is of an equatorial rays; thermometer ranking daily from 95 to 100 degrees. This, though, is not the most unpleasant form of Texas life. The water is artesian, and very unsalable without ice, which is due from the heat. Very little ice water is drank, except by the natives composed of Mexicans, a very horrid looking human being, a few Indians and other mixed population. However, the handwork of the natives, in many forms, is an art curiosity. From this source are to be appreciated the Texas rattle snake, the horny toad and many other strange reptiles, which are the soldier's bane of fear, as well as an art-my of mosquitoes and the Texas sand storms are feared by all, being of a cyclonic nature and occurring at a moments notice, which are in the nature of wind typhoon, blinding and suffocating to man and beast.

There is very little green food grown in some portions of this state, accounted for by the light rainfall and the arid appearance of the state has a desert appearance. The growing cotton and the Texas long horned steer seem to be the State's greatest asset. From the agricultural view, in traveling from New Orleans to San Antonio, Texas, there was nothing seen in the nature of farming except cotton growing, which continued for a stretch of five hundred miles.

Camp life, to the enlisted man, consists of regularity for each and every duty. Of course, it is understood that the men of the army maintain the upkeep of the camps, which brings about every form of work for the men. Housekeeping, which is most exact, washing of our clothes for the soldier is the most perfectly kept man in the world today which is another feature of the government's consideration for the men from home. We are examined weekly internally and externally for any apparent disease that might be making inroads. There is no sickness in this large body of men at present nor have I heard of any since being a resident of this camp for three weeks. The soldier's life is very pleasant at present; there is no complaint among the men at large.

Regulations require that each man raise from his slumber at sound of reveille which is at 5:00 a. m., dress hastily, form into line for fifteen minutes of Calisthenics before breakfast, thence commence policing up quarters to get grounds and tents in shape for any inspection which is apt to come at any period of the day, except Saturday, when general inspection takes place. Lights are out at 9:00 p. m., and all loud talking and merriment from the soldier must cease. Mess comes at 6:00 a. m., 12:00 noon, and 5:00 p. m. Retreat at 6:00, when the colors are saluted, which brings a solemn expression to the face of each man. Sleeping under tent and the fresh, crisp air of Texas is very invigorating to the men. This mode of sleeping adds to the stalwartness of the army man. The officers in charge are very considerate and pleasant to all men, setting the example of a genteel regime which the private must follow from man to man. I am working among the office force in this camp, being the work or the service for which I can serve my country best, and here I want to say, that the government is following out their promise which proves how fairly each man is being treated. There is an occupational opening for every known talent and men of knowledge, which is necessary for the maintenance of this vast army.

While there is many inviting points in the army life, yet it is to be remembered that the enlisted man is making great sacrifices, and the hardships are many, to the new soldier from civilian life. The soldier should be the first thought in every American heart, and every good American woman should be devoting her time and energy to some good work, for the comfort and spiritual feeling of the man nearing the front.

We all miss our former city and home life, and the ones which we had learned to love, and be among, however every man has the utmost confidence that he will return from whence he came, after we have won the BAND OF HONOR in this WORLD STRUGGLE.

RISKS LIFE TO SAVE FLAG.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Risking his life to save Old Glory was the feat of Frank Goodwin, of this city. The warehouse of the Knoxville Waste Paper & Junk Company was tottering and flames were leaping into the sky when someone in the crowd surging around the structure yelled: "Look! Old Glory will be burned!" Young Goodwin leaped forward to a ladder, and while firemen looked on he ascended the pole, seized the flag and brought it unscathed to the ground. The crowd cheered as he delivered the colors to Fire Chief Sam B. Boyd.

BUY FISH CAUGHT

NEAR YOUR HOME

A writer of an article on new kinds of sea food says in the November Woman's Home Companion:

"A simple rule of the purchase of fish may be laid down that will fit almost every consumer wherever she may live. This rule is to buy the fish that is caught in local waters. This fish is nearly sure to be freshest and cheapest. It is almost true that the cheapest fish in the market is the best. Its cheapness indicates that it was caught locally, and that it has not been kept long. The housewife will argue that she has tried these cheap fish, and that they are of poor quality. The recommendation is that she continue to experiment with local, cheap fish until she finds those that are to her liking, and that she then stick to them."

HOW ONE CROOK FOOLED TWO OTHERS

In Jack Lait's story in the November American Magazine, three crooks sleep together in the same room. One has money; the other two search all night to find it. In the morning, over the breakfast table, this scene occurs:

"'C'mon,' snapped Pete. 'I don't know what you're tryin' to get across, but whatever it is, shoot.'

"'Lead your ace,' barked Marty. 'By the expression that lived on the face of each the Kid knew they knew he knew.'

"'Say, it was a pipe,' he said. 'I didn't have that dough at all.'

"They looked mystified. They leaned forward. Pretense was gone now.

"'I didn't have it till the t'ree of us started to leave the room for breakfast—an' then I lifts it out o' Pete's vest pocket, where I hid it las' night as we was comin' in the room.'

Heart and Lungs.

The action of the heart, lungs and digestive system is involuntary, for the reason that it is indispensable to life and must be carried on under all circumstances. If a man had to think of his heart or had to remember that he must breathe or that his food must digest he would have no time to do anything else, and if by chance he should forget to keep his heart going or his lungs in operation he would fall dead on the spot.

The Most Accurate Frontier.

As an instance of the jealousy existing in the relations between Norway and Sweden it may be noted that the boundary line between the two countries is the most minutely exact in Europe. In every parish touched by the line there is deposited an elaborate plan which is renewed every ten years, the whole of the work of surveying, etc., being carefully repeated each time.

Dr. Frederic Jacobson says, 75% of Women Need Phosphates to Give Them Strong, Healthy, Rounded Figure and to avoid Nervous Breakdown. Thousands of Women Grow Strong in Nature's Way.

"Consider the Lilies of the Field, How They Grow."

The life of the lily is but a few weeks or months. The life of man is "three score years and ten." But to live one's life in its fullness, women like the lily, must be nourished by those same vital elements which nature provides for nourishing every living thing; and these include the valuable phosphate so often lacking in the usual food we eat today. Argo-Phosphate is rich in these wonderful elements. It contains them in concentrated tablet form which is easy to take and quickly assimilated and absorbed into the system, and from you to old age, builds and rebuilds body and brain in beautiful harmony with Nature's perfect plan. "That's why" Argo-Phosphate makes good solid flesh and muscles.

SPECIAL NOTICE: Argo-Phosphate contains the Natural phosphates which thousands of physicians are prescribing daily to build up thin pale, colorless women to give them rosy cheeks, red lips, and a beautiful complexion. Many cases have been reported where women have increased their weight from 15 to 25 pounds with a few weeks treatment, and any woman who desires a well rounded and developed form, should secure from her druggist, this new drug which is inexpensive and is dispensed by any reliable druggist with or without a doctor's prescription. If your druggist will not supply you, send $1.00 to the Argo Laboratories, 10 Forsyth St., Atlanta, Ga., and they will send you a two weeks treatment by return mail.

BIG DRIVE TO WIN FOOD-SAVING PLEDGES IS ON IN KENTUCKY

Church and Schools, Clubs and Newspapers
Busy Themselves to Make State Campaign Success and Splendid Aid Given In Telling Those Who Must Remain At Home How They Can Help Win War.

"Food Will Win the War"—this the battlecry!

"Serve by Saving"—this the slogan of every patriotic American woman, eager to do her bit in order that her husband or son, father or brother engaged in the mighty task of making the world safe for democracy may not be hampered through food privation in their glorious undertaking!

The great drive is under way, and according to Fred M. Sackett, Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky, advice from Washington is to the effect that the vast majority of the 22,000,000 families in the United States will volunteer to co-operate with the Food Administration in the saving of food in order that our army and the armies of our allies will be fed and the great war won. There is ample evidence at hand. Mr. Sackett says, to convince him that Kentucky will splendidly account for herself in the number of pledges obtained.

To date between 78 and 80 counties in the State have been organized. Churches, schools, community leagues and newspapers are rendering invaluable service assisting in every possible way government officials whose duty it is to impress upon the American people the importance of eliminating wastage in the distribution and consumption of food stocks. Capt. W. E. Morrow, of Louisville, in charge of the campaign to obtain pledges as directed by the State Food Administrator, says he is confident with the showing made up to this time that by next week every county in the State will be organized and workers appointed to conduct the house-to-house canvass for pledges during the week beginning October 21.

Morgan O. Hughes, of Bowling Green, is another worker who is optimistic regarding the campaign in Kentucky. He is a member of the State Council for National Defense, and as soil expert for the government is known to the farmers from one end of the State to the other. He declares the co-operation of all classes of citizens in the food-saving campaign is imperative if this country is to smash Kaiserism a blow from which the German autocrats will never recover. "All of us must rally to this cause," he says, "and not delay. Conservation of the good supply is the all-important thing. And when we say 'Food will win the war' we are not overstating the case. It behooves all of us, therefore, to save every ounce of food we can and spread the 'gospel of the clean plate' for and near."

Miss Lida E. Gardner, State organizer of Community Leagues and Parent-Teacher Associations, has sent out letters to 325 school trustees, teachers and heads of the parent-teacher bodies in an effort to mobilize the resources of all the community leagues in Kentucky for the purpose of furthering the campaign to eliminate waste. V. O. Gilbert, State Superintendent of Schools, has written to county superintendents requesting them to have teachers impress upon their pupils the importance of food-saving at this time and through them to reach the parents. The children will be urged to request their mothers to sign the pledge cards and to repeat the request daily during the week of the campaign.

Mr. Sackett is especially gratified over the responses received from the secretaries of the various Chambers of Commerce from the State, notably those at Louisville, Covington, Lexington, Newport, Henderson, Paducah, Owensboro and other of the larger Kentucky cities. The business men have indicated their intention to lend all possible assistance in making the campaign a success. Numerous county agents, county home demonstration agents, district home demonstration agents and emergency agents have pledged their hearty cooperation in the movement to enlist housewives in the furtherance of humanity's cause.

T. E. Moss, executive secretary in the office of the State Food Administrator, states that the first consignment of pledge cards, kitchen cards and window cards have arrived—300,000 of each kind—and these will be distributed among the various county workers without delay. Mr. Moss is confident, he says, that at least 75 per cent. of the 550,000 families (estimated) residing in Kentucky will sign the pledge cards.

HERE IS A RECIPE FOR SWELLED HEADS

In the November American Magazine a writer says:

"He had a bad case of swelled head. A terrible but very common disease. He got to making money fast, and then he 'blew it in' right and left for the purpose of showing off. He thought that he was a wonder. He felt that he was invincible. He allowed his feet to get off self-flattery—the worst flattery that can attack anybody."

"So he 'blew up' with a loud report, and now he is getting back on his feet."

"It takes a man with a lot of sense to keep level-headed in the presence of sudden success. Still it can be done. The way to do it is to keep saying to yourself: 'Now, young fellow, don't fool yourself. Remember that millions before you, for untold generations, have shot up like rockets and then shot down. There is nothing remarkable about you yet. You are still about as rare as a garter snake—there have been so many like you in the past. You haven't even begun to distinguish yourself, and you won't distinguish yourself except by doing a good job well for a long time. Now, the surest way for you to interrupt that good work is for you to develop a swelled head. Don't do it. You need your head for thinking purposes, and a swelled head can't think straight.'"

THE PRUSSIAN AND THE RUSSIAN

Back in the long ago, before the god of war and beer had found it necessary to violate the neutrality of Belgium "on strategic grounds," a Russian gentleman of much importance was dining with a Prussian gentleman similarly distinguished.

Der Klare Quell tells this incident of the dinner:

As is usual on such occasions, wine and beer flowed and the guests became more and more unrestrained, much to the disgust of the Russian, who was of a highly refined and intellectual type and particularly prejudiced against beer and the grossness which attends its use.

In a state of hilarity, the Prussian poured a great glass of beer and presented it to his Russian neighbor, saying: "You must empty this to the health of our Kaiser."

The Russian took up an immense joint of mutton from the table and, laying it upon the Prussian's plate, said: "You must eat this to the health of our noble Czar."

"What!" cried the Prussian in astonishment. "Do you think I am a wolf that I could gorge myself on that enormous joint?"

"Do you think," replied the Russian, "that I am a swine to your that rotten mess into my stomach?"

BEER, TRAITOR IN EVERY LAND!

The hearts of the sixty million prohibitionists of this country are in this war. But the tales that are coming back of canteens, temporary, it is true, but "on the British plan, with beer," and of gifts of wine to troops in France, have created uneasiness in millions of homes. France and England may have the lives of our boys, but not their souls and not their manhood for a plaything. It is reported that things are better in this regard. Unless the native good sense of the British and French peoples or the diplomacy of the Administration solves this problem very soon, there will be a demand from millions of Americans that Congress take the matter under consideration.

THREE REMINDERS.

Despise not the common things. The four-leaf clovers are all right in poetry and songs, but—it is the little three-leaf clover that feeds the cows. If, while living, you do not burden your wife with the investment of your money, why should you ask her to assume that responsibility when you are dead? Will she know more about it then than now?

A PRAYER FOR OUR SOLDIER BOYS.

God bless our Soldier boys
Who pray with heart and voice
God save our boys.
On land or stormy sea
Give them the victory,
Fighting for liberty
God save our boys.

Let angels chant again
Good will on earth to men
The war flags furled.
Hail day of glad release
When bloody battles cease
And everlasting peace
Rule all the world.

SUBMARINE HAS NOT TURNED THE TRICK

Frank Simonds, the great war expert, has written an article for Farm and Fireside in which he says:

"Half the advantage of superior German preparedness was swept away when the British fleet made it possible to transform America into the factory and granary of the Allies. It will be the verdict of history made in the United States, at least the Germans already attribute to American help the protraction of the war. This is the contribution of sea power."

"Against sea power Germany had devised the submarine, or rather she had relied upon the submarine. In her plans it played the part of the old privateer. It was a commerce destroyer, and what it undertook to do was to prey upon commerce, upon the life of Great Britain, since without imports she would starve to death. Yet despite all the sensational successes of the submarine, it has failed in its purpose. It has not isolated Britain, it has not produced starvation, it has not even interrupted the flow of munitions or of supplies for the allied armies. It has sunk many merchantmen, but it will not be the deciding factor in the war."

HOW TO PROLONG THE GARDEN SEASON

A writer says in Farm and Fireside:

"I have tried several ways of extending the season of perishable garden vegetables of late years with gratifying success, but old newspapers and burlap sacks are my main dependents. Newspapers are spread over late bush beans, cucumbers, tomato vines, sweet peppers eggplant, etc. The burlap sacks are then spread over the papers to hold them in place and furnish additional protection. When these easily frosted plants are saved from the first killing frost, it is often quite easy to prolong the bearing season of these appetizing vegetables for a month or more to the great advantage of our home table. The main requirement is to save a generous supply of newspapers and burlap sacks, then keep tab on the weather man. Most of the vegetables mentioned can remain covered for several days when cold weather threatens, until the cold wave passes."

ANOTHER LINCOLN STORY.

Lincoln and certain judge once fell to bantering each other about trading horses; and it was agreed that the next morning at 9 o'clock they should make a trade, the horses to be unseen up to that hour, under a forfeit of $25. It the hour appointed the judge came up, leading the sorriest-looking specimen of a nag ever seen. In a few minutes Lincoln was seen approaching with a wooden sawhorse on his shoulders. Great were the shouts and the laughter of the crowd; and these increased when Lincoln, surveying the judge's animal, set down his sawhorse and exclaimed, "Well, judge this is the first time I ever got the worst of it in a horse trade."—Youth's Companion.

VOTING TERMS.

"Ballot," as generally used, has wandered far from its original meaning of "little ball." Even "black-balling" is no longer necessarily literal. Language has several fossil relics of primitive methods of voting. Most famous is "ostracism," which perpetuates the memory of the "ostrakon," the potsherd or shell upon which the Athenian citizen voted for the banishment of a too prominent personage. Another instance is "spondulicks," the slang word for money. A "spondulus," properly a vertebra of the spine, came to mean any round thing and in particular the voting pebble or its metal equivalent.—Exchange.

A WORD FOR MOTHERS

It is a grave mistake for mothers to neglect their aches and pains and suffer in silence—this only leads to chronic sickness and often shortens life.

If your work is tiring; if your nerves are excitable; if you feel languid, weary or depressed, you should know that Scott's Emulsion overcomes just such conditions.

It possesses in concentrated form the very elements to invigorate the blood, strengthen the tissues, nourish the nerves and build strength.

Scott's is strengthening thousands of mothers—and will help you. No alcohol. Scott & Bowne, Bloomfield, N. J.

Come and See the Columbus

Here Are More Big Points

THE hound, hub, skein and skein box construction will interest you. On the Columbus the hounds are of straight-grained oak; on the front gear they are of the square type, wide and roomy in the rear, to give the reach ample support in turning short. They are mortised and well braced with solidly welded steel.

Hubs are of white oak only, turned, shaped, and bored accurately for the skein boxes. Skein box is made so that a grease chamber is formed. A solid collar keeps the oil away from the wood of the hubs. Mud and sand cannot get into the axle and the skeins cannot wear into the skein boxes. That means long life and good service.

These are all reasons why you should own a Columbus wagon—that is—if you want a wagon for real work. Come in and let us show you.

JUDGE COURT OF APPEALS.

We are authorized to announce
HON. J. W. HENSON, of Henderson, a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals from the Second Appellate District subject to the action of the Democratic party.

THEN AND NOW.

Last year the Fiscal Court appointed Judge Wilson, John H. Barnes and J. Mason Taylor, three Democrats, to superintend the construction of the Hartford and Morgantown State Aid road. In casting about for a foreman to look after this work, they employed Mr. Entenson Rogers, a Republican, because they knew that he was competent and would "deliver the goods" regardless of politics. Their first thought was for results—not politics.

NOW—Last Saturday Squire Ed Shown, candidate for re-election on the Republican ticket for Magistrate in the Hartford district, and Squire Ben W. Taylor, Democrat, who, together with County Attorney
A. D. Kirk, had been appointed a committee to superintend the construction of the Hartford and Owensboro State Aid road, met for the purpose of selecting a foreman.
Squire Shown's first thought is for politics regardless of results.

If the voters of the Hartford Magisterial district like this sort of thing, they will vote for him, if not,
they will vote for Joe Y. Haygerman, who we know not to be so narrow in his political views.

We are unable to state just how much the economy Superintendent paid out of the school funds as salary to his daughter for clerical work in his office after school hours, because in his trumpeted public statement of the condition about a year ago of this fund, he includes this statement in a bunch of odds and ends charged up under the head of "Incidentals."—Hartford Republican.

Come, come, brother Thomas—you surely didn't have your glasses on when you read Prof. Shults' "trumpeted" statement, for had you looked more closely you would have seen on the second page, between the items
"school lots, repairing, etc.," and
"coal, erasers, hauling, buckets, brooms, crayon, etc.," the item "office expenses." This item of $180 constitutes the "enormous" salary paid the daughter of Prof. Shults, which was voluntarily allowed by the Ohio County Board of Education, and which seems to be such a "bug-a-boo" in the record of Supt. Shults.
That this meagre salary has saved
the voters of the county more than six times that amount in one year can be proven by the records, and if the Republican insists on "mud-slinging" in this campaign, we will produce this record. Verily Prof. Shults is making the race for re-election on his record and "a drowning man is still grasping at a straw."

The next session of the Legislature will be an important one from many standpoints, but from none
perhaps, more than that of the tillers of the soil. The very fact that the producers are enjoying in a great measure the prosperity they justly deserve will be an additional excuse for the representatives of the rich bond-holders to place, if possible, greater restrictions and heavier burdens on our farmers and other owners of tangible property. The new tax law is sure to be up for amendment or repeal, and Ohio county should have a representative that has studied the needs of the farmers and laborers, one thoroughly in sympathy with their efforts for the betterment of producing and marketing conditions and one that will stand by and vote for the interest of the masses and against unjust and inequitable taxation, regardless of the position of political leaders in any party. We have such a man in Russeau Weller. Those who have observed his life-work, his devotion to the interest of his fellow farmers promote successful co-operation, will agree that if he is sent to Frankfort
he will not only be found voting right but he will command an influence that will carry many other votes in opposition to the organized forces of wealth and advocates of class legislation. Do you want that sort of a representative? Will you take advantage of the opportunity to help yourself by putting J. R. Weller in the House of Representatives to carry out your wishes and be instrumental in framing wholesome legislation for the great body of common people in Kentucky? If so, talk to your neighbor and induce him to vote for Weller, the man you need in the Legislature.

A business man from Hartford went to Madisonville recently and when he went to the depot to get a ticket for home over the M., H. & E.
he found the train had been gone about 8 minutes. Not to be outdone, however, he hired a horse and buggy and headed the train off at the next station out of Madisonville, and had twenty minutes to spare. This is a sample of the service over our road,
but Mr. R. H. DeTreville, of the L.
& N. passenger department, was here last week and says if we will bear with them until the war situation clarifies a little, we will get a through passenger train. We deserve better service than we are getting, and we trust that the visit of Mr. DeTreville is not a bluff, for WE MUST have more trains over our road than one each way a day, and it mixed.

The editor of the Republican needs to adjust his glasses or change his drinks as he says "it was a bit ungracious" for us to not predict the election of Judge Glenn in our acoustic, "Signs of the Times," last week. If he will take another look he will see the name of one of the best qualified men who ever come before the people of Ohio county, asking an endorsement as their legal advisor, and we don't believe the voters will overlook this fact in November, either.

"Judge A. H. Tuck, of Morgantown," says the Republican, "is collecting a museum of political antiquities and has asked us to procure for him a copy of the once current and popular picture entitled 'He kept us out of war.'" While the Judge is collecting antiquities, why not also include a picture of our late lamented bewhiskered friend Hughes? If it could be found, it certainly should be valuable, for we haven't put our "peepers" on one since last November.

'Tis said that a great many good men failed in the officers' training camps because they were paying more attention to girls than they were army matters. Business before pleasure, boys, for you know that it takes more than a pair of yellow leg-gins and shoulder straps to make an army officer.

Our contemporary, the Hartford Republican, wants to know if "the Democratic candidates" are making "their campaign on the record of their county, State or National administration." All three, and the fitness and qualifications of each candidate to fill the office he seeks. Can the Republicans say as much?

This is your war and my war, and it is up to us to buy the Liberty Loan Bonds, to finance our government in this world-struggle for freedom and democracy. Come to the meeting at the court house next Monday night,
and learn more about the purchase of these bonds.

A Texas town has raised more than $1,000 to be offered as a reward for the capture of the Kaiser. We venture the assertion that there is not a man today wearing the khaki who would not be only too willing to perform the task gratis if given the chance.

Too bad that Prof. Shults "rungs in" two such men as C. O. Hunter and C. M. Crowe on that "trumpeted" statement of which the Republican is making such a "hulla-bub."

With whisky at $7 a quart and beer at $1.25 per bottle, there should be no danger of the boys at Hattiesburg getting too much on the $30 per month salary they receive.

"Mud worse enemy for English than Germans," reads headline. Surely they haven't gone to slinging mud
in this war, too.

The New York Giants seemed to have "knocked the socks off" the Chicago bunch when they got them on home grounds.

LIBERTY BOND MEETING

There will be a meeting held in the court house at Hartford, Monday, Oct. 22, for the purpose of forwarding the campaign of the sale of Liberty Loan Bonds. The County Chairman, John H. Barnes, of Beaver Dam, and Rowan Holbrook and J. C.
Riley, of the local committee, will be present; will explain the purpose and objects of the meeting, and why the public should invest in these bonds.

Everybody is invited and urged to be present, as it is their patriotic duty to buy these bonds.

The chairman of each precinct committee is especially requested to be present.

OUR EXCHANGES.

"Some" Peanuts.

This office has on display a few peanuts raised by Miss Georgia Phil-pot of this place, that would take the premium over any display of peanuts that has come under our notice.
They are two inches long and one and half inches in circumference. In each of the nuts are two kernels as large as the ordinary peanut. They are of a remarkable good flavor and are reported to be very numerous in the hill. Miss Philpot has raised and harvested about five bushels of the nuts.—Hancock Clarion.

Fine Mules Sold.

Charles Wheeler, of Bardstown, sold to a Mr. Couch, of Atlanta, Ga., a pair of black mules for $600. This was considered the best pair of mules in the county, and were the winners
at the Nelson County Fair. Mr.
Wheeler also sold to Frank Sims two pairs of two-year-old mules, one pair at $450 and one pair at $375. The four bringing $325 or $206.25 per head. This is one of the best sales that has been consummated in this county this fall.—Bardstown Standard.

Tells the Truth.

The present prices of whiskey being prohibitive, we have abandoned the use of strong drink and have taken up tobacco in its stead. Out of one bad habit into another, just like most all other people, who inhabit the earth. The only difference in ourselves, and some people we know, is we frankly tell the truth concerning the matter, while they do not.—Benton Tribune Democrat.

Snake Bite Kills Cattle.

Mr. Nick Greenwell had three cattle to die in rather a mysterious manner, the first of the week. He promptly called Dr. Deats from Bardstown to them. The Doctor, after thoroughly studying the case pronounced it snake bite. The other owners of cattle were very much alarmed thinking some new disease had appeared but fortunately no other cattle have been affected.—New Haven Echo.

Look What You Get!

Have you noticed how the drafted men are trying to get out? They don't know a good thing when it comes along. They have a job that cannot be taken away, and get their food and clothes, and tobacco, and a good gun to shoot. That gun is worth the price of admission, and then they will get to take an ocean trip, and see France and England and about fifty-six thousand acres of the Atlantic ocean.—Sage of Bullit, in Pioneer News.

Snake Reporter Has Easy Time.

The snake reporter for the Hustler has been off his job the whole season, perhaps from the fact that there have been no snakes to report. It is now a little too late for business of this kind, so that special reporter will lay off until next spring.—Madisonville Hustler.

The Way of the Bootlegger.

The last session of the Legislature passed a bill making a second conviction for selling liquor in prohibition territory a penitentiary offense, and the Court of Appeals in the first case to come before it of the kind holds that it is a good law and affirms the UNPATRIOTIC CRITICISM.

Notwithstanding the high order of patriotism shown by the Republican leaders in Congress by the rank and file of the party throughout the country, occasionally there crops out some of the evidences of narrowest patriotism, which is reflected in unjust and unpatriotic criticism of the President.
Recently, in one of these instances the Hartford Republican, in a malicious spirit, cited the fact that Wilson was elected on a peace platform, and that he almost immediately plunged the country in war.

Literally, that is true, but when President Wilson was elected, not only he, but the entire nation was relying on Germany's pledge in the Sussex case that its submarine warfare would not be carried on against neutral and non-combatants.

On the 31st of January last, the Kaiser pronounced his policy of ruthless submarine warfare against all ships which entered a specified zone.
After this only the surrender of the nation's sovereignty would have kept the country at peace.

The resources of diplomacy were exhausted. Germany gave the lie to her pledged word, and war was declared.

In the campaign between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Hughes the latter declined to say on the stump that he believed the President was wrong in keeping the nation at peace, and now the Republican leaders join their countrymen in proclaiming the justice of war.

The rank and file of the Republican party is 100 per cent. patriotic, and Mr. Wilson's partisan critics can wisely take counsel from the kind of Republican who is wearing khaki and is ready to give his life for his country.—Elizabethtown News.

CROP REPORT

For Kentucky as of October 1, 1917, Issued by the Department of Agriculture, Frankfort,
Kentucky.

The crop report as of October 1 shows that farmers are busily engaged in cutting corn, filling silos, housing tobacco and doing the fall seeding. The report gives almost entirely the preliminary estimates on yields for this year and acreage for next.

The corn crop is unusually good,
but late. It is not all gathered and there is danger of damage by frosts.
The preliminary estimate on the yield of corn is 30.9 bushels per acre, which is 1.1 bushels better than last year, which would make the forecast of the corn crop 123,979,800 bushels.

The final estimate of yield of wheat this year is given at 11.6 bushels per acre. The estimate of hemp yield is given at 1,010 pounds per acre, as compared with 996 pounds preliminary estimate last year.

A good deal of fall wheat has been sown as well as rye and barley. From a summary of the reports sent in,
the estimate on the wheat sown is 103 per cent. as compared with 86 per cent in 1916. The acreage in 1916 was estimated to be 884,000, and based on this, the preliminary estimate for fall wheat would be 1-058,373 acres. The acreage of rye is given at 97 1/2 per cent as compared with 87 per cent in 1916, while barley is given at 90 per cent as compared with 88 per cent last year.

About three-fourths of the tobacco crop was reported housed by the 1st and it is curing nicely. It is estimated that burley tobacco will yield 906 pounds per acre as compared with 919 pounds last year, and dark tobacco's yield is given at 860 pounds, as compared with 851 pounds in 1916.

The late crop of potatoes is reported poor. The average production of Irish potatoes is estimated at 83 bushels per acre and sweet potatoes at 87 bushels. Late gardens are practically dried up. Livestock is in good condition. Conditions of grasses are as follows: Blue grass 88 per cent, clover 89 per cent, orchard grass 91 per cent, and alfalfa 95 per cent. The third cutting of alfalfa is given at 1 1/4 tons per acre. Alfalfa is going into the winter, with good prospects.

Now is the time for the farmer to put in some cover crops if he has not already done so and thereby prevent soil erosion and retain the fertility of his fields for next year's crops.

Commissioner of Agriculture.

Judge C. M. Crowe, Master of Hartford Lodge No. 675, F. A. & M., and W. S. Tinsley, High Priest of Keystone Chapter No. 110, R. A. M., left yesterday for Louisville to be in attendance at a three-day session of the Kentucky Grand Lodge.

Candidates should not overlook the fact that they must file expense accounts next Monday, Oct. 22. Whether you have spent anything in the campaign or not, this statement must be filed with the County Clerk on that day, not before nor after.

Capt. Ben M. King, of Company K, Owensboro, has resigned as head of that company, and will return to his home at Owensboro. This news was conveyed to the Owensboro papers Friday in a Camp Shelby dispatch. Capt. King is a nephew of John and Dan King, of this city.

Mr. Joshua Tinsley, of Route 3, was in to renew his subscription to The Herald yesterday, and said he had been reading it ever since the first issue went to press, which is 43 years. He says he does not intend to be without it in the future, either.

COAL WANTED—If you are in arrears to The Herald and want to pay your subscription by bringing us coal, we will be glad to square up with you in that way. Call us up or notify us otherwise that you want to bring in the coal.

Col. W. Fred Long, formerly of Beaver Dam, is now living at Jackson, Miss., representing the International Sunday School work as General Secretary. His business carries him frequently through Hattiesburg. He will be glad to render any service for any Kentucky parents regarding their boys.

Fire Tuesday morning, October 9, totally destroyed the residence and storehouse of Mr. L. E. Everly, at Matanzas. The origin of the fire is unknown, and the loss on the building, stock and household goods will be about $6,000. Mr. Everly carried no insurance. He has not decided whether or not he will rebuild.

Rev. A. D. Litchfield, the new pastor of the Methodist church, arrived with his family last week from Glasgow. Rev. Litchfield was delighted with the hearty reception he and his family received upon their arrival in the city. He filled his regular appointment at Mt. Hermon last Sunday and will preach at Hartford the first and third Sundays and Goshen the fourth Sunday.

Jim Hancock, who is connected with an oil drilling company at Leitchfield, was here Sunday.

Miss Susie Schlemmer, a trained nurse, of Evansville, Ind., is visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Schlemmer in the city, and her sister, Mrs. Robert Lauterwasser, on Route 1.

The revival meeting held at Clear Run Baptist church by pastor Birch Shields assisted by Eld. M. G. Snell, resulted in five conversions, and five will be baptized in Rough river today. Much interest has been manifested. The meeting probably closed last night.

The District Mission Board of Ohio County Missionary Baptists, nine members being present, met at Hartford Baptist church yesterday. Eld. Albert Maddox, McHenry, was elected missionary and field secretary to begin work the 1st of November. The next meeting of the Board will be at Beaver Dam the regular time in November.

County Chairman John H. Barnes, of the Liberty Loan Bond Campaign, is very anxious that everybody in Ohio county pull off their coats, go out and sell a Liberty Loan Bond on Wednesday, Oct. 24, "Liberty Bond Day." Ohio county should not "fall down" in this patriotic work. See your banker today and come to the meeting at the court house here Monday night, Oct. 22.

FOOD PLEDGE CAMPAIGN POSTPONED WEEK, OCT. 28

The campaign for pledges to avoid waste of food products in Kentucky has been postponed for a week so as not to interfere with the Liberty Bond campaign. Instead of Oct. 21 the work of taking pledges will begin Oct. 28 and continue one week. Mrs. J. S. Glenn, chairman for Ohio county, is much gratified with the way the ladies are taking hold of the work, and the zeal manifested. This is one way we can all help our boys in the trenches and not deny ourselves. The request is not to waste any food products. This patriotic duty all should take pleasure in performing.

The boys who are risking all for us must not suffer for food by waste on the part of those at home.

Sign a pledge card and help the movement. No financial responsibility is incurred. You are merely pledged to avoid all waste that could be reasonably avoided.

RESOLUTIONS AS TO DEPARTURE OF REV. LITCHFIELD

The following resolutions, published in the Glasgow Republican, is evidence of the esteem in which the Ministerial Association, of Glasgow, held Rev. Litchfield.

"Whereas, Bro. A. D. Litchfield has been assigned to the Methodist church of Hartford, Ky., and for this reason must move from our midst; therefore be it

"Resolved, that the members of the Ministerial Association of Glasgow, Ky., express their sincere regret for the going away of a sympathetic minister of the Gospel, a Christian gentleman, a friend of the high and low, rich and poor, old and young, and a loyal citizen. We heartily commend him to the brethren and citizens of his new field, and judging from his scholarly ability and constructive work accomplished while in Glasgow, Ky., we predict great things for him in his next charge and rapid forward strides for the people about to come under his ministry.

WHAT HARTFORD COLLEGE BOYS AND GIRLS ARE DOING

The patrons and friends of the Hartford school are invited to meet at the building Friday afternoon, Oct. 19th, for the purpose of organizing a Parent-Teachers' Association. These associations can be made powerful agents for the upbuilding of schools and it is hoped that everybody interested will be present.

The enrollment of the school is larger this year than was expected. There are one hundred and forty in the grades and ninety-three in the High School. Forty-six of the High School enrollment are boarding students. The freshman class is the largest in years, there being thirty-nine enrolled.

At the Pig Show in September Raymond Yeiser, a sophomore, received first prize for exhibiting the best potatoes and second for Plymouth Rock chickens. As a reward he won a trip to the State Fair. At the Ohio County Fair he won first and second prizes for having the best all around exhibit; first and second for best pair of Plymouth Rocks; second for best Plymouth Rock cockerel and pullet. John Allen Wilson won first prize for exhibiting the best Plymouth Rock cockerel and pullet. Walter Mischke won first prize on White Wandots.

At the School Fair at Fordsville last Saturday, Mae Mount, a sophomore, won first prize for writing the best original story. Campbell Pirtle won first for exhibiting the best specimen of writing in the first grade. Beulah Collins won first also for having the best writing in second grade. The best original story will appear in The Herald next week.

A beautiful spirit of patriotism was manifested by the pupils Library Week. They contributed $17 to the Soldiers' Library Fund. Some were so eager that they gathered pumpkins, some washed dishes, some chopped wood and others carried in coal that they might have money to donate.

Some samples of the articles made from the wool furnished the local Red Cross committee, of which Miss Margaret Marks is chairman, are on exhibition at the Bank of Hartford. They are articles that will be highly appreciated by the boys in the trenches when winter sets in right.

LOUISVILLE LIVE-STOCK MARKET

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 16, 1917.
HOGS—Receipts 5,727 head. The prospects were for a 15c lower market being established. Best hogs, 165 pounds and up, $17.85; 120 to 165 pounds, $16.85; pigs, $13.75@15.00; roughs, $16.25 down.

CATTLE—Receipts 5,587 head. The supply was more than expected, primary markets reported exceedingly large runs, and as the result trade was dull and druggery during the early rounds and prices lower. Best light butchers were in fair request, but medium and plain sort were dull and lower than last Monday. The canner and cutter demand was fair, but prices weaker than a week ago. Best bulls sold around steady, but medium and common bulls were lower. There was a keen demand for high-grade feeders and stockers, but medium and plain sort were plentiful and hard to find a buyer for at steady rates. Choice milch cows in fair demand. But little doing in the heavy steer division during the early rounds, plenty of medium 900 to 1,000-pound cattle here. Prices ranged from $4.75 to $11.00.

CALVES—Receipts 521 head. The market ruled about steady; best veals, 12@12½c, but medium and common kinds were plentiful and hard to sell at low prices.

SHEEP AND LAMBS—Receipts 658 head. The market continues steady. Best lambs, $15.00@15.50; seconds, $10.00@11.50; culls, $7.00@7.50. Best sheep, $8.00@8.50; bucks, $6.50 down.

EGYPTIAN WHEAT.

County Agent Browder brought to this office Monday the heads off of some Egyptian wheat that grew on the place of Mr. J. D. Powers, of Aetna.

It resembles very much the head of sorghum or broom corn, and is said to be fine feed. However, the principal use made of it is human food, for when threshed and ground is said to make cakes that are very delicious.

Mr. Powers will not grind any of his, however, as it was late and only a few heads matured before the frost.

Several from here attended the school fair at Fordsville Saturday. Some of Hartford's High School pupils also attended, but arrived too late to participate in most of the athletic contests.

Pass Along the SMOKES

YOU warm-hearted people of Ohio county won't let the men who are fighting your fight go smoke-hungry.

Not a bit of it. You're going to see to it that they get all the tobacco they need—just as the folks back home in England and France are taking care of the smokes for Tommy and Poilu.

It isn't much to do—considering. A dollar or a quarter from you that gives a little comfort to one of your own flesh and blood, doesn't stack up to much alongside the fact that the very man you are befriending may have to give up his life.

But it's a regular thing to do—and you "regular" men and women will do it.

This is the way. Fill in that coupon below, put it in an envelope together with all you can afford to give and drop it in the nearest box now, addressed to

HARTFORD HERALD Tobacco Fund

Our paper has joined the Courier-Journal and the Louisville Times in this most worthy undertaking.

Approved by Secretaries of War and Navy, the management of this fund buys its tobacco at cost—every contribution of twenty-five cents means forty-five to fifty cents' worth of tobacco for the man out there. No one profits but the fighting man—rents, postage, advertising are all contributed and the soldier who gets your tobacco will send you a postal telling how much it meant to him.

There's no argument here. Just put your name on that blank line and pass along the smokes.

BED CLOSED UP

Col. Ed Jones Has Exciting Experience in Dawson.

Says the Hopkinsville Kentuckian: Col. E. D. Jones has returned from Dawson, where he had an exciting accident at 2 o'clock Wednesday night. His injuries were slight.

SLACKER IS GIVEN ONE YEAR IN PEN

Louisville, Ky.—Perry Morris Hale, of Daviess county, was given a sentence of one year in the penitentiary by Judge Evans of the United States court for failing to register under the selective draft law. There were two witnesses to testify against Hale, being W. S. Dejanette and Deputy Sheriff Beard. They both stated that they told Hale of his obligation, but he claimed that he did not know he was obligated to register.

THERE WAS NO HURRY.

The telephone bell rang with anxious persistence. The doctor answered the call.

"Yes?" he said.

"Oh, doctor," said a weary voice, "something seems to have happened to my wife. Her mouth seems set, and she can't say a word."

"Why, she may have lockjaw," said the medical man.

"Do you think so? Well, if you are up this way some time next week I wish you would stop in and see what you can do for her."—Harper's.

WINDS OF FATE.

One ship drives east and another drives west. With the self same winds that blow.

'Tis the set of the sails And not the gales Which tells us the way to go.

Like the winds of the sea or the winds of fate,

As we voyage along through life, 'Tis the set of the soul

That decides its goal, And not the calm or the strife.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

NO ROOM FOR THE KICKER.

In this great war which we are waging, there is no room for the kicker. The man who stands around and criticizes the President and Congress, the draft board and the army management, is driving a nail into his own coffin, and helping the brutal German Kaiser in his efforts to dominate the civilized world. Uncle Sam realizes this as he has never done before, and hence men are placed behind the bars. A speech which would be permitted in times of peace is high treason in war times. If otherwise construed, there would be anarchy and bloodshed under the rule of mob law.—Cadiz Record.

LIBERTY LOAN COMMITTEE

ORGANIZATION NAMES MEN FOR DISTRICT CAMPAIGN.

Bankers and Business Men of Seven States Will Direct Drive to Sell $200,000,000 of Bonds.

St. Louis, Mo.—The Liberty Loan organization of the eighth federal reserve district has launched its campaign for $200,000,000 allotted to the eighth federal reserve district as its part of the second Liberty Loan—$3,000,000,000.

Hon. Rolla Wells, governor of the federal reserve bank of St. Louis, is responsible for the campaign in the eighth reserve district which includes part or all of the following states:—Missouri, Arkansas, Illinois, Indiana, Kentucky, Tennessee and Mississippi. Gov. Wells appointed a general committee composed of men of experience—largely bankers—widely scattered geographically over the district, and of this committee he is chairman. William R. Compton was again made head of the executive and administrative committee.

Liberty Loan Organization—Eighth Federal Reserve District.

Executive—William R. Compton, chairman, St. Louis; T. K. Smith, St. Louis, secretary; M. F. Dunlap, Jacksonville, Ill.; Walker Hill, St. Louis; Otto L. MAKING CHRISTMAS WREATHS MADE HER MONEY

There is a little story about money growing on bushes in the November Woman's Home Companion. The writer says:

"It was about five weeks before Christmas when she first observed the spice, or red swamp berries, and conceived the idea of making wreaths. She went at once to all the managers of the principal stores in Newport News and Hampton and asked for orders. As it happened, it was a very original idea in this part of the country to offer wreaths for sale. For decoration at Christmas time, holly in mass, or the artificial holly, had been used. The one or two stores that had used wreaths had ordered them from Baltimore. Evidently, the

RICE FIELDS OF JAPAN.

Mostly Tiny Gardens, but They Feed 50,000,000 People.

Almost one half of the land capable of cultivation in Japan is planted in rice. Handkerchief gardens would perhaps best describe the little rice fields, many of which are no larger than a tennis court, are equally flat and are surrounded by rims of earth to hold the water when the fields are flooded. The average rice field in Japan is about one acre and a half in size; but, large or small, each field must be leveled, and each must have its rim or dike. Then there must be a system of canals to bring water to the fields and another system of ditches to take it away when it is no longer needed.

If the land were fairly level the preparation of the ground, which is all done by hand, would not be so hard nor would it require such vast amounts of human labor, but Japan is a mountainous country. Terraces must be cut from the steep hillsides and so leveled that they will hold the water at a uniform depth over the small fields.

It is said that there are 12,000 square miles of rice land in Japan, the greater part of which has been prepared with an almost infinite amount of labor. That area of land cultivated in rice virtually feeds a nation of 50,000,000 people.

The little fields are usually permanent, and frequently a farmer owns three or four scattered fields. That further increases the work of caring for his crops. In recent years, however, the government has tried to consolidate the holdings of farmers by a process of land exchange.—Youth's Companion.

SASH WINDOWS.

Probably a Dutch Invention of the Seventeenth Century.

The history of sash windows is somewhat obscure, but the probability is that they were a Dutch invention and that they were introduced into England soon after the revolution of 1688. The derivation of the word "sash" in this sense is the Dutch "sas," a sluice—old English "sasse." In Queen Anne's reign they were yet so comparatively uncommon as to be mentioned as a special feature of houses that were advertised as "to let." In the Tatler, for instance, May 27-30, 1710, there is this advertisement:

"To be left, in Devonshire Square, near Bishopsgate, a very good Brick House of 3 Rooms of a Floor, and a good Hall, with very good light and dark Closets, the whole House being well wainscoted and sash'd with 30 Sash Lights."

From England they passed into France, where the first to put them up was Marshal de Lorge at his new house at Montmartre. Speaking of this, Lister in 1699 writes in his "Journey to Paris": "We had the good fortune here to find the marshal himself. He showed us his great sash windows, how easily they might be lifted up and down and stood at any height, which contrivance, he said, he had out of England."—London Standard.

Trapping Turtles.

In the old days in the south the negro fishermen used to have an ingenious and simple way of trapping fresh water turtles. Any boy today can use the same method with the same effect. Turtles have favorite sunning logs. Beside one of the logs sink a water tight box two feet long and a foot and a half wide. The open top of the box should stand about an inch above the water. Nail the box securely against the log in such a position that it will catch the turtles that fall from the log. After the trap has been set leave the pond or lake for a time. On returning approach the log quietly from the side opposite the box. If there are any turtles on the log, frighten them suddenly. They will pitch off hurriedly into the box.—Youth's Companion.

Waste From Small Leaks

The importance of mending the tiniest leak in a water pipe is shown in a circular issued by a small city in which water meters are used. This, as quoted by Popular Mechanics, states that under a pressure of forty pounds in twenty-four hours 170 gallons of water will pass through a hole a shade larger than the period at the end of this sentence. An orifice the size of a fairly large pinhead will permit 3,000 gallons to escape in the same time.

Sad Truth.

"Are you economizing over at your house?"

"No. We're simply eating less for the same money."—Washington Star.

SEC'Y M'ADOO GIVES FULL EXPLANATION OF SECOND LIBERTY LOAN BOND ISSUE

TREASURY HEAD OUTLINES INVESTMENT AS IT AFFECTS BOTH LARGE AND SMALL SUBSCRIBERS — ITS TAX EXEMPTIONS.

System of Interchangeable Coupons Makes Early Delivery to Buyers Possible—Bonds Convertible into Subsequent Issues.

Washington, D. C.—Secretary McAdoo has announced the details of the second Liberty Loan, which has just been offered to the public. The chief features are:

Amount, $3,000,000,000 or more, the excess not to exceed one-half of the amount of oversubscription.
Terms of Bonds—Maturity, 35 years; redeemable at the option of the secretary of the treasury in 10 years.
Denominations of Bonds—$50 and multiples of $50.
Interest Rate—Four per cent, payable semi-annually on November 15 and May 15.

Terms of Payment—Two per cent upon application, 15 per cent Nov. 15, 40 per cent Dec. 15 and 45 per cent Jan. 15, 1918. The privilege of converting bonds of this issue into bonds of any succeeding issue bearing a higher interest rate than 4 per cent during the period of the war is extended, and through an arrangement under which bonds will be printed with only four coupons instead of 50 (to be exchanged at the end of two years for the bonds containing the full number of coupons) deliveries will be prompt. In this manner the issue of interim certificates will be avoided.

McAdoo's Announcement.
Secretary McAdoo's announcement reads as follows:

"With the approval of the President I have determined to offer, Oct. 1, 1917, $3,000,000,000 or more worth of United States convertible gold bonds, due Nov. 15, 1942, and subject to redemption at the option of the United States at par and accrued interest on and after Nov. 15, 1927. The bonds will bear interest from Nov. 15, 1917, and the interest will be payable on May 15 and Nov. 15 in each year.

"The exact amount of bonds to be issued under this offering will depend on the amount of subscription received. It is, of course, to be expected that subscriptions considerably in excess of $3,000,000,000 will be received, and in that event the right is reserved to allot bonds in excess of $3,000,000,000 to the extent of not over one-half of the sum by which the subscriptions received exceed $3,000,000,000. In other words, if subscriptions to the extent of $5,000,000,000 are filed $4,000,000,000 of bonds may be allotted.

At Par and Accrued Interest.
"The bonds will be offered as before, at par and accrued interest, and will be in denominations of $50 and multiples thereof.

"The bonds shall be exempt, both as to principal and interest, from all taxation now or hereafter imposed by the United States, any state or any of the possessions of the United States or by any local taxing authority except (a) estate or inheritance taxes and (b) graduated additional income taxes, commonly known as surtaxes, and excess profits and war profits taxes, now or hereafter imposed by the United States upon the income or profits of individuals, partnerships, associations or corporations. The interest on an amount of bonds and certificates authorized by said act the principal of which does not exceed in the aggregate $5,000, owned by any individual, partnership, association or corporation, shall be exempt from the taxes provided for in clause (b) above.

"If a subsequent series of bonds (not including United States certificate of indebtedness, war-saving certificates and other obligations maturing not more than five years from the date of such obligations, respectively) bearing interest at a higher rate than 4 per cent per annum shall, under the authority of said act approved Sept. 24, 1917, or any other act, be issued by the United States before the termination of the war between the United States and the Imperial German Government (the date of such termination to be fixed by proclamation of the President of the United States), then the holders of bonds of the present series shall have the privilege, at the option of the several holders, of converting bonds, at par, into bonds bearing such higher rate of interest, at the issue price of bonds of such subsequent series, not less than par, with an adjustment of accrued interest.

Conversion Privilege.
"Such conversion privilege must be exercised, if at all, at any time within the period, after the public offering of bonds of such subsequent series, beginning at the date of issue of bonds of such subsequent issue, as such date shall be fixed in such public offerings, and terminating six months after such date of issue, and under such rules and regulations as the Secretary of the Treasury shall have prescribed. The bonds to be issued upon such conversion of bonds of the present series shall be substantially the same in form and terms as shall be prescribed by or pursuant to law with respect to the bonds of such subsequent series, not only as to interest rate but also as to convertibility (if future bonds be issued at a still higher rate of interest) or non-convertibility and as to exemption from taxation, if any, and

How to Buy a $50 Liberty Loan Bond in Several Installments

Ask for an official application blank from the Federal Reserve bank or its agency in your community. Pay $1 on signing application.

About Nov. 6 the government will notify you whether the bond has been allotted. If not, your deposit will be returned.

On Nov. 15 pay $9 through the agency where the application was filed. On Dec. 15 pay $20 and on Jan. 15 pay $20 and the bond will be delivered to you.

Consult your local banker for details of installment payments.

In all other respects, except that the bonds issued upon such conversion shall have the same dates of maturity of principal, and of interest, and be subject to the same terms of redemption before maturity, as the bonds converted; and such bonds shall be issued from time to time if and when and to the extent that the privileges of conversion so conferred shall arise and shall be exercised.

"If the privilege of conversion so conferred shall once arise, and shall not be exercised with respect to any bonds of the present series within the period above prescribed, then such privileges shall terminate as to such bonds and shall not arise again, though thereafter bonds be issued bearing interest at a higher rate or rates than 4 per cent per annum.

"Subscription for the bonds must reach the Treasury Department, Washington, D. C., a Federal reserve bank or branch thereof or some incorporated bank or trust company in the United States (not including outlying territories and possessions) on or before the close of business Oct. 27, 1917. The application must be accompanied by a payment of 2 per cent of the amount applied for and subsequent installments upon bonds allotted will be due as follows:

"Eighteen per cent on Nov. 15, 1917; 40 per cent on Dec. 15, 1917; 40 per cent on Jan. 15, 1918. On the latter date accrued interest on the deferred installments also will be payable.

"I am very glad to be able to announce that by authorizing the engraving of these bonds with only four coupons attached instead of the full number of 50 coupons it will be possible to have the actual bonds ready for delivery as soon as full payments are completed, thus avoiding the trouble and delay incident to the issuance of interim receipts or temporary bonds. On and after Nov. 15, 1919, the holders of the bonds will have opportunity to exchange them for new bonds having attached thereto coupons for the balance of the period for which the bonds will run.

Immediate Delivery.
"It is also expected that on or about Oct. 10, 1917, there will be in the hands of the several Reserve banks a supply of these new bonds ready for immediate delivery to subscribers in amounts not in excess of $1,000 to any one subscriber against payment in full, thereby avoiding, in such cases, the trouble incident to waiting until after allotment for delivery.

"Plans are also being perfected whereby the banks all over the country can obtain bonds for the making of prompt delivery against these small subscriptions. As the bonds will bear interest from Nov. 15, and as those who pay in full prior to that time will not obtain any interest on their money until that date, this is offered as an alternative proposition to those who are anxious to obtain immediate possession of the bonds for which they subscribe. The reason this offer will be limited to amounts of not over $1,000 to any one subscriber is that all subscriptions in excess of this amount will be subject to allotment.

"The campaign for the sale of these bonds will open Monday, Oct. 1, and will close Saturday, Oct. 27. I confidently hope that when the campaign is over it will be found that the total number of subscribers is at least 10,000,000 and the total subscriptions in excess of $5,000,000,000. Such a response would be notice to our enemies that the American people as a whole intend to support with all their power their government in the vigorous prosecution of this war and the achievement of an early and lasting peace."

One-third of the sales in the coming Liberty loan campaign is the task set for the women of the country by the Woman's Liberty Loan Committee, which began a two days' session here with more than 100 delegates from all sections in attendance.

Mrs. W. G. McAdoo, chairman, presided, and Mrs. Antoinette Funk of Chicago announced the great share of the work undertaken amid enthusiastic applause.

FIRST BONDS ISSUED IN DRIVE FOR LIBERTY

They Are as Good as Gold—May Be Used to Pay Grocer's Bill.

The bonds for the first Liberty Loan are now being distributed in the Eighth Federal Reserve District, and the subscribers to the first issue are presenting their receipts to the banks and bank investment companies, eagerly claiming the handsome bonds.

The Liberty Bond is most attractive and one that every citizen should be proud to possess. The $50 bonds have the appearance of an overgrown $50 banknote. It is printed on Government parchment. The face is printed in blue-gray ink, bearing the terms of the bond in fine script, the denomination, the number, the date of issue, the signature of W. G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury; Houston B. Teehee, Register of the Treasury; a portrait of Thomas Jefferson, an etching of the Goddess of Liberty statue and the seal of the United States. The reverse side is printed in sepia, bearing an etching of the American Eagle, the Goddess of Liberty, the bond number, the denomination, the date of maturity and the interest dates. Bound thereto are 60 coupons, payable each June and December for 30 years.

Liberty Loan bonds are exempt from all taxes except inheritance tax. They are liquid investment and can be converted into cash at any time, or may be used to pay the grocer's bill, the dressmaker's bill, or indeed may pay for her new bonnet with a Liberty Bond; that is, provided she has shown her patriotism by buying one.

LIBERTY BONDS ARE SAFEST

ALL BONDS FREE FROM NORMAL TAX.

Five Thousand Dollar Investment Exempt from All Tax Except Inheritance.

The Second Liberty Loan—$3,000,000,000—is receiving the hearty support and co-operation of the citizens of the Eighth Federal Reserve District. The Liberty Loan Organization, in charge of the placing of the allotment of the Eighth Federal Reserve District, has been frequently asked to explain the exemption of a $5,000-investment.

Not the least important feature of the new $11,500,000,000 bond issue, which is the biggest piece of financing legislation in the world's history, is the tax status of the new bonds. Some important bankers believe that the combination of 4 per cent and exemption from all taxes of the interest on $5,000 of the bonds in themselves guarantee the success of the sale.

The interest on bonds owned in excess of $5,000 of principal is likewise exempt from normal income taxes, but the supertaxes apply on holdings above $5,000, provided the holder's total taxable income places him in the supertax class. The owner of $10,000 of the bonds, would therefore pay no tax on the first $200 of interest, but the second $200 might be subject to supertaxes. In other words the amount of interest over and above $200 from the bonds becomes general income, in the same category as dividends on stocks, subject to the ascending scale of supertax rates which begin at $5,000.

"To the small subscriber the bonds will be entirely exempt from all taxes. Having no other income an investor can purchase as much as $130,000 of the new bonds without paying any income tax. This means annual interest of $5,200. The first $200 is entirely exempt and the remaining $5,000 not being above the supertax limit, is likewise non-taxable. Of course this is an extreme example, and is predicated upon the receipt of no other income."

"A government bond is the safest investment in the world; it is as good as currency and yet better, because the government bond bears interest and currency does not. No other investment compares with it for safety, ready convertibility into cash, and unquestioned availability as collateral security for loans in any bank in the United States."—Secretary McAdoo.

Of the first Liberty Loan of $3,000,000,000 sixty-five per cent of the subscriptions were for amounts of $10,000 and less. The same ratio is expected to prevail for the second.

ST. LOUIS LEADS IN PLANS FOR THE SALE OF LIBERTY BONDS

McADOO ACCEPTS ST. LOUISAN'S IDEA OF SENDING 12,000,000 LETTERS TO FARMERS TO AID IN SALE OF BONDS.

Text Books on Liberty Loan Sent to Every Postmaster, School Teacher, Railroad Agent, Telegraph Agent in United States.

St. Louis, Mo.—St. Louis in the first Liberty Loan campaign originated many novel features as well as efficient methods of distributing the Liberty Bonds, and in publicity lines. Again in the second issue St. Louis is leading in original ideas. James E. Smith of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce presented Hon. Wm. G. McAdoo, secretary of the treasury, a plan for reaching the farmers. Secretary McAdoo immediately wrote Mr. Smith, telling him that the plan had been accepted.

Smith's plan is to have a special letter sent to the farmers through fourth-class postmasters of the country, and the rural free carriers. This will practically reach every farmer in the United States. A letter will be sent to 12,000,000 farmers explaining the Liberty Bond, and appealing to them for their patriotic support. This letter will be supplemented by a special letter to a selected list of 1,000,000 farmers who are prosperous and have money for the purchase of the Liberty Bonds.

In addition to the Smith plan the National Publicity Committee for the distribution of the Liberty Loan are sending direct to each postmaster, railroad agent, telegraph office manager in the country a text-book that they may inform themselves and be able to answer questions and explain the Liberty Loan. Text-books are also being sent to every school-teacher in the United States, especially in the rural districts.

The distribution of the second Liberty Loan Bond—$3,000,000,000—will open this morning at 10 o'clock. This is the time designated by Hon. William G. McAdoo, Secretary of the Treasury.

The Liberty Loan Organization of the Eighth Federal Reserve District has placed the sales of these bonds under the direction of the Investment Bankers' Committee, which has organized an efficient sales force of bond and insurance salesmen into teams with a captain for each. The bond and insurance salesmen offer their services without remuneration and the devoting their entire time during the month of October to the placing of this loan for the United States Government.

Arrangements for a large military parade Tuesday afternoon, October 2, commencing at 3:30 o'clock. Governor Frederick D. Gardner and Mayor Henry W. Kiel, and the officers of the Liberty Loan Organization had been invited to review the parade from the reviewing stand in front of the Star Building. The parade was composed of United States Army Infantry, two St. Louis regiments of Home Guards, Boy Scouts, associated bankers, and a large number of bond and insurance salesmen.

"BABY BONDS" BIRTH GIFTS; THEY GROW AS BABY GROWS

Byron Moser, Jr., St. Louis' First Baby Bond Investor.

St. Louis, Mo.—One of the interesting attractive features of the first Liberty Loan Bond issue was the novel idea of purchasing a bond for an infant son or daughter, that were aptly called "Baby Bonds."

Byron W. Moser, Jr., infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Byron W. Moser, 6186 McPherson avenue, St. Louis, was the first baby Liberty Bond investor and the first to receive his bond. The bond was purchased for him when he was six months old. Baby Byron will clip his first coupon when he is 1 year old, December, 1917, and thereafter for 30 years he will clip, semi-annually—a coupon.

Byron, Jr., cooed over his bond gleefully, his chubby hands clutching it as firmly as a miser would grip his gold. If his cooing was rightly interpreted, he confided that he proposed to start a savings account with the first coupon which he would clip, December, 1917, and thereby add to his capital. His capital will be growing while he grows.

A Liberty Bond is one of the most attractive birthday, Christmas, graduating or other gift that can be made. It is a sure investment and a gift that will always be sure of appreciation.

THE CHALLENGE OF THE DOLLARS.

Quoting a Berlin dispatch which boasted of the success of a new German war loan, Secretary McAdoo at his Atlantic City speech said: "Let us meet that challenge by a subscription to our second Liberty Loan on Oct. 27, nine days after the close of the German loan, which will make clear to the German despotism that America marshals not alone her soldiers and her navy, but her financial resources as well, and that she is determined to use them all without stint to vindicate American rights."

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS

All About You and Your Neighbors

BEAVER DAM.

Oct. 15.—Mrs. Sarah J. Williams Paxton died last Thursday of disease incident to old age. She was 77 years old and the last member of a family of 10 children, being the daughter of Thompson Williams, who emigrated to this country from Virginia, over a century ago, and settled near where Liberty church now stands, where subject was born. She was a member of Beaver Dam Baptist church of the longest standing of any member of the church, having joined that church in November, 1852. Was married to Mr. S. J. Paxton February 14, 1864. He lived two miles from town on the Rochester road. She is survived by her husband and two children, Mr. James Paxton and Mrs. Edna Paxton Reed, besides a host of relatives and friends. Friday at eleven o'clock her remains were interred in the family burying ground after services at the home by her pastor, Rev. Edgar Allen.

The hard freeze of late will put the corn in condition to be gathered soon as the farmers can finish sowing their wheat which has kept them busy the last two weeks. A large crop of wheat is being sown in this part of the county.

The stork has been visiting our town. Last Thursday he blessed the home of Mr. George Cain with a little boy and on the same day the home of Mr. Sigsby McKinney was presented a girl. Mothers and children are doing well. George and Sigsby are rejoicing.

Revival in progress at the Christian church conducted by Rev. T. C. Reid, of Russellville.

Miss Edna Williams accompanied her sister, Mrs. Tim Taylor, to her home in Stanford, Ill. She will spend a month visiting in that State.

Mrs. Dancy Vaughn, of West Frankfort, Ill., arrived in town last week to spend a week visiting her mother, Mrs. S. D. Taylor, and other friends.

Mr. Escocoe James, who has been confined to his bed quite a while of typhoid fever, we are glad to note, is on the road to health. He has been badly missed in the Cooper Bros.' store and in the Baptist Sunday School where he is superintendent.

Also Mr. Frank Cooper, who has been down with the fever, is convalescing.

DUNDEE.

Oct. 15.—Lots of farmers are sowing a nice crop of wheat, but the ground is dry.

Rev. Wallace, the preacher sent here for this year, preached his first sermon Sunday to a large congregation.

Messrs. Fuqua & Muffett are shipping lots of stock now. Prices are good.

Mr. Harry Wedding and Miss Jeanne Weller, a very young couple from here, went over to Rockport, Ind., last week and were married.

Mr. Sam Pate is moving to John Foreman's farm, near Pattiesville.

Mr. Archie Johnson has moved into Mrs. Cates' house, here.

Mrs. Mollie Moseley attended the Grand Chapter at Whitesburg, Ky., last week.

OLATON.

Miss Gilla Daniel, near this place, is very ill at this writing.

Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Arms went to Evansville, Ind., Friday, on business.

Mrs. G. W. Daniel and son, of Owensboro, visited Mrs. Daniel's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Lyons from Friday until Sunday.

Mrs. Frank May, of Harned, Ky., returned home Thursday, after spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wilson, and at Mr. A. W. May's.

Bro. Burdette of Fordsville, filled his regular appointment at the M. E. Church at this place, Sunday.

Misses Bessie and Hattie May and Mabel Stone attended the School Fair at Fordsville, Saturday.

Mr. Jesse Elmore Felix was in Hartford Wednesday, on business.

HOPEWELL.

Mr. Joe Brown, Jr., who is a soldier, was at home on furlough for ten days, returned to his company last Friday, near Kinn, Ohio.

Our school adjourned last week for the time on account of a contagious disease among the children.

Our neighbor district Oakland's schoolhouse burned Monday, the 8th. Master Wilbur, Tucker, of Green River, carried all of the desks to the door amid the heat while the teacher and the rest of the scholars took them away. The neighbors were called by phone.

There was a theatrical show at Paradise last week. Messrs. Tucker and Rupert Taylor's folks and others, of Green River, were going in a boat to the show. There was a towboat ready to start as the party was rounding into land, not knowing they were behind them the wheel hit their boat, threw some of them out, but all were landed safe, though in the excitement Mr. Tucker called for his little boy who said, "Here I am holding on this raft." He was the hero in the burning of the schoolhouse mentioned above.

Mr. Fox Brown's colt show was held at Wysox last Saturday. P. S. Coleman got the blue string and Shelby Williams the red.

Mr. Arthur Johnson and brother contracted to make Mr. Henry Stum's molasses, and made 140 gallons.

CERALVO.

Oct. 15.—Miss Maggie Hunter is visiting friends and relatives near Equality.

Mrs. W. D. Barnard returned home Sunday after spending a week with her daughter, Mrs. Josie Dennis, of Paradise. She was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Hefflin, and children, of Rockport.

Miss Louise Miller, of Powderly, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Vernon Everly.

Mrs. W. S. Hill and Mrs. J. H. Wood attended the Grand Chapter at Whitesburg, last week.

Mr. Ray Ingram, of McHenry, spent Saturday and Sunday with his sister, Mrs. C. R. Fulkerson.

Mrs. Emma Fulkerson has returned home, after spending several weeks with Mr. Pink Sharp and family, of Taylorville.

Misses Athel and Anna Wood spent a few days last week with relatives at Equality.

Mrs. D. W. Kimmel and daughter Eva, are visiting relatives at Rochester and Paradise.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hunter, of Equality, spent Saturday and Sunday with Mr. P. L. Wood and family.

HORSE BRANCH.

Oct. 15.—Farmers in this vicinity are very busy harvesting their crops and making sorghum.

Mrs. Jesse Wilkerson and Mrs. C. W. Taylor spent Thursday at Caneyville, shopping.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Read and children spent Sunday in Owensboro.

Miss Pearl Rains, who is attending a business college in Louisville, spent from Friday till Monday with relatives here.

Mrs. Bettie Wilson, of Louisville, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Cecil Taylor.

Miss Marbie Crowe, who has been ill for some time, is improving at this writing.

Mrs. Vernon Crowder visited Mrs. Elijah Hoover at Olaton, Friday.

Mrs. J. B. McDaniel is better, after an illness of several days.

Mr. Kilpatrick, of Missouri, is visiting his family.

Mr. Robert Bratcher is improving after an attack of typhoid fever.

Oris Frazell, who had the misfortune to lose part of his hand by the about recovered.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Howard, of Hartford, visited Mr. Virgie Gary from Thursday until Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Likens, of Beaver Dam, also visited Mr. Gary Sunday.

Mr. E. A. White has purchased some fine Duroc cattle.

Dr. J. S. Bean is attending the Blue and Gray Reunion at Picksburg, Miss., this week.

The following are on the sick list: Mr. Job Arnold, Mrs. Rob Burden's children, Mesdames Mae Allen, Jim Goodwine and Levi Allen.

Mr. Walter Greep has gone to Caneyville, where he will assist his father in a meeting and deliver a number of lectures.

Mr. Jerry Canan, of Olaton, has recently rented the McDaniel hotel and is doing business. He will also carry a line of drugs.

The Holiness meeting which was billed for here last week, seems to have missed schedule. Is doubtless side-tracked somewhere.

REV. NAPIER INSTALLED AS PASTOR AT ELKTON

Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock here will be a get-acquainted get-together service held at the Methodist church, in order that the people of the community may meet Dr. J. G. Aiken, Principal of Elkton College for Boys, and Mrs. Aiken; Mr. Whittier, of the same faculty, and Mrs. Whittier, and the Rev. B. W. Napier, new pastor of the church and Mrs. Napier. Rev. Napier's first sermon of his pastorate was preached Sunday morning and was well received by the good-sized congregation that heard him. His wife and child arrived Wednesday and the family are now occupying the parsonage.—Todd County Times.

The Fordsville School

I'll write you this poem on the Fordsville school,
And if you don't like it you can just keep cool.
I think our school is very, very good,
But we could make it much better if we only would.

We have six teachers, both kind and true,
And they are working very hard—just for me and you.
I think we should all try to do our best
For when school is out we will get a good rest.

Now I'm sure we are all going to do better work
And never a one will try to shirk,
And we'll gather little by little along life's way
Until we all get to be great men and women some day.

And here's one thing that I want to tell:
"When you learn a lesson, learn it well."
It's worth more to you than a hundred pages,
And it will stay with you for ages and ages.

And when you get through going to school
I want you to always take with you this rule:
"If Don't be like a balky horse hitched to a cart.
But always be ready to do your part."

Now, I don't know what you all think by this time;
But I guess I can't get any more to rhyme;
But I hope that some day this school may be Made larger and better because of me.

The above poem, by Miss Irene Odell, was awarded the blue ribbon at the Fordsville School Fair last Saturday as the best original poem.

$100,000,000 ESTIMATED VALUE OF KENTUCKY'S TOBACCO CROP

Now that the tobacco crop is all safely housed and a great deal of it cured without injury, a forecast in figures, and dollars, may give the public a better insight into what this Kentucky product means to the farmers and the world.

The optimists estimate the size of the Burley crop at 250,000,000 pounds; at $25 per hundred pounds that would give us $62,500,000, which is near as much money as the 1916 crop of the whole State brought. Then, estimating the dark crop in the western part of the State at 200,000,000 pounds, at the figures the type is likely to bring on the market, $15, we have $30,000,000 more and then add to these stupendous figures the salaries, expenses of handling, and the sum will not fall short of $100,000,000.

When these figures are set side by side those paid before the war, they are at least three times the amount realized by the farmers when prices were at their lowest point.

When it is also considered that much of this money comes from not only Europe, but all over the world, it will be seen that Kentucky has risen to a point of so much importance to the tobacco buying and consuming world that it would be a shame to even consider her casting to the winds this great money-making product, that for a century she has striven to secure a paying demand for, and finally has secured it.

Other States that have not the needed soil or climate, barns and labor skilled in producing tobacco, can be asked to increase their wheat and corn production as Kentucky has done already. She has for at least fifty years, all along the Ohio river bottoms, raised corn, exclusively for foreign demand, in farm lots of from 5,000 to 40,000 bushels annually by thousands of farmers, thus "doing her bit" as she is trying to do on wheat.

The "boys in the trenches," call for and are due their "solace smoke," they are risking their lives, we must meet their wants, and for Kentucky to fail to do her bit, by growing and sending them and the Allies their needs at this time would be a national disgrace and he basest ingratitude. Reports of both the Allies and the German physicians state "our investigation of those who use tobacco in the marshes and malarial districts show that it has been a preventive for these infectious diseases," and if these reports are not true, who dare attempt to disprove them "tobacco is a military necessity," and Kentucky must not show the white feather.—E. T. Robards in Louisville Herald.

PILLAR OF SALT CITIZENSHIP.

When Lot's wife was journeying to safety she could not resist looking back to the land she had left and was thereupon turned into a pillar of salt. The men from the old world who instead of adopting an attitude of hearty and exclusive loyalty to their land, try also to look backward to their old countries, become pillar of salt citizens who are not merely useless, but mischievous members of our commonwealth.

The dispatches of the German government, just published by the State Department, give us an illuminating glimpse, not only of German methods and of German conduct towards this country, but also of certain phases of our own citizenship.

The German government proposed to use this country as a basis of operation for wrecking the Canadian Railways. It also proposed to use and pay its agents, certain of our citizens, for "sabotage in every kind of American factory for supplying munitions of war," and for "a vigorous campaign to secure a majority in both Houses favorable to Germany." The German staff in issuing these directions and in naming certain American citizens as tools for the treacherous work, insisted that the embassy should not be compromised and that "similar precautions must be taken in regard to Irish pro-German propaganda."

Good citizens who have been misled by false counsel must now clearly see that the campaign of dynamite against our industries, with the attendant wreckage and murder, was a deliberate act of secret war by the German government; that the attempt by Americans to secure an embargo on sending munitions to the Allies was an effort to aid Germany in thus making war on the United States; that the Irish pro-German movement in this country was financed and guided from Germany and that our citizens, whether of foreign native birth, whether of native American or German or Irish origin who took part in pushing these movements, were doing substantially the same kind of work that Benedict Arnold once tried to do.

Some of them were doubtless paid, others were doubtless not paid, but the paid and unpaid alike were serving Germany against the United States. These matters are now all of public record. The excuse of ignorance can no longer avail any one. Henceforth the citizens of German or Irish birth who take part in such activities as those of most of the German-American alliances and the like, are at best standing in the position of pillar-of-salt citizenship; at worst they, and above all their native American associates who now indulge in pacifist movements or demand a peace without overwhelming victory or ask for a referendum on the war or in any other way serve the brutal and conscienceless ambition of Germany, stand unpleasantly near the lonely eminence occupied by Benedict Arnold.—By Theodore Roosevelt, Copyright, 1917, The Kansas City Star.

STAND BY THE PRESIDENT.

The Cincinnati Enquirer prints a lengthy dispatch from Indianapolis describing the efforts of certain disloyal men in that city to defeat Democratic nominees for local offices as a "rebuke to the President."

The Evening Post has no information as to the merits of the local contest in Indianapolis. Neither party has been very good in that city in the matter of local government. The interesting feature is that men who wish to cripple this country during the progress of a war are uniting to oppose Democratic candidates because they belong to the same party as the President, and they wish to reflect upon the President.

Something of the same kind is undoubtedly going on in Louisville, where an effort is being made by certain Republican politicians to appeal to the disloyal vote. That such a policy is not countenanced by those Republican citizens that the whole city respects is, of course known, but the Republican campaign for the offices in this local campaign is being prosecuted by men, some of whom would not hesitate to go after the disloyal vote, and they are going after it.

The Beautiful Gulf Coast.

The beautiful thing about the Gulf Coast, between New Orleans and Pensacola, is that it is a real playground, summer or winter—a playground for northern folk from November to May, and for southerners during the summer months. You can't ask for much more of placid nature than has been expended on the gulf littoral between New Orleans and Pensacola. There are pine woods, forests of live oaks, al moss hung and mysterious, long stretches of winding, shaded roads, woodland paths, quaint southern hamlets and modern resorts teeming with gayety and active life; lovely retreats where you can swing in a hammock all day and drowse in the narcotic air. And there is the sparkling water, the beach, the surf, boating, fishing—anything and everything that calls from the salt water side.

Going South on the Louisville & Nashville Railroad, after you leave Mobile, it is impossible to escape the infection of joyous living, even if you wanted to do that. At every stop throngs of people are going and coming—youth and age alike, getting on or off the trains. Laughter and breezy, sunny, fragrant air greet you. It is moreover a place of sane, natural outdoor joys in surroundings of homely comfort or of luxurious ease, whichever you prefer. It is a locality of ancient and honorable traditions and the natives are descended from holders of the soil since the first days of the white settler. They make you welcome with a stately, southern hospitality, and have put at your disposal the best their home land affords. Every resort and every old plantation home is shaded by age-old ancestral oaks and grown over with trailing vines, roses and perennials; and they all look out over the gulf waters, at the dancing waves, the scudding sails, the beach and the surf. If you can't find happiness down there in the golden sunshine and among the countless diversions and attractions of that playground, don't go South in the winter expecting to find your "Promised Land," for you'll have only your trouble for your pains. No choicer spot exists and greater comfort is not to be found. The winter climate is ideal, not uncomfortably warm, but moderate and bracing, putting snap and ginger into the system.

Touring along the Gulf Coast is one of the ways travelers take to find their own particular choice—and for this purpose the train service of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad is convenient. You can stop everywhere, beginning at Mobile, and stay a few hours, a few days or as long as you wish. It is a fascinating vagabondage that will bring you eventually to the place of your ultimate desire. You can, also, if you choose, ship your motor car to Mobile and go in for regular touring along the gulf—the roads are all good and the country is fascinating in the extreme. History lends its background of fact to a long list of interesting tradition and romantic legends concerning this locality, and the "atmosphere," while wholly American, has the foreign flavor in sufficient degree to give it diversity and variety. Topographically, the coast lies low and curving, rising gently toward the hinterland, which is forested with pines, broken in the clearings, by rich and productive farmlands. The shore line is much indented, the numerous bays, "bayous," "sounds" and lakes give a seemingly endless and all-surrounding water scene. Lying off the shore is a line of islands, forming the outer bulwark of Mississippi Sound, and fronting this are the resorts that have been famous since pre-revolutionary days—the towns which began as of the French colonies, begun under the brothers de Bienville and d'Iberville. Theater a few days ago Judge R. W. Bingham called attention to the fact that this year a straight party fight had been forced by the action of the Republicans on making nominations against every city or county officer, no matter how competent. "As this political issue has been made," said Judge Bingham, "let a Democratic city stand by a Democratic President."—Louisville Post.

COW CHOKED TO DEATH—HORSE DROPPED DEAD
Mr. A. G. Grigsby returned yesterday morning from Sunnydale, and reports that Mr. Jim Gray, of that place, had the misfortune Monday to lose a valuable cow and horse under rather peculiar circumstances.

The cow was choked to death on a nubbin of corn, with the shuck on. After she was skinned, the carcass was hitched to the axle of a wagon and dragged to a ditch to be buried. Upon turning the team around to return to the house, one of the horses dropped dead.

Mr. Gray is a hard working man, and the loss of the cow and horse is quite a blow to him.
